by Rev. Zephaniah Meek.

During his absence, the Rev. M.
W. Hiner requests us to announce that all subscriptions to the parsonage of the M. F. Church South should be left at the bank.

$250,000 worth of track and bridges were washed out of the C.
& O. Railroad at Hinton, W. Va., Monday by a cloud burst, and trains are now running over the N.
& W. R. R.

Capt. J. C. Hopkins, assignee of Thompson Bros., railroad contractors, caused the Norfolk & Western railroad to be put in the hands of a receiver last week. Z. T. Vincent, of Hinton, was made commissioner of the railroad, and commenced his duties on Monday. The road is now in the hands of a receiver.

There are always lots of suckers left, no matter how many are caught. The Ashland News says:
"Green goods men from Cincinnati and New York are both flooding this section at present with the cheaply offered inducements that the unsophisticated are likely to be taken in with the same avidity as a fish." All the talking one way or the other will never be sufficient to prevent some silly investments being made in the surrender of the investor, and the annoyment of his countrymen, when it is known that the same of the surrounding country has been caught, but it will be no surprise to hear at any time that the act has been done to perfection."

Have you seen Hatcher's line of candy? It is by far the finest ever brought to Louisa.

THIS MEANS BUSINESS.

A Strong Milling Firm For Louisa.

The Louisa Milling Company has been organized at this place and has purchased the plant of the Louisa Roller Mills from Capt. M.
Freese. The stock subscribed is $10,000. The organization has been completed as follows: Maj. H. J.
Burchett, President; Col. Jay H.
Northrup, vice-President; and those in connection with Judge J. T.
Borris, Dr. H. S. Sweetnam and J. T.
Leonard form the board of directors. The company is made up entirely of prominent local business men, who propose to run the business in a manner which will compete success. Their plant has fine modern machinery capable of turning out the very best work. The little repairs needed will be put on immediately. A large stock of grain has just been received and orders for anything in the milling line will be filled at once. Everything from the highest grades of flour down to all kinds of feed will be kept on hand in large quantities. Mr. Leonard, a practical miller of long experience and superior ability is in charge, and being a stockholder has the interests of the business thoroughly at heart. It is to the interest of this section that a first class mill shall be in constant operation at this point and it behooves our citizens and the people of the surrounding section to give it their patronage. This the firm asks only on the merits of their goods. Give them a trial and test the quality of their productions and the manner of their dealing.

Abstract of Proceeding of Town Council.

Regular meeting June 6th. The resolution passed at a previous meeting releasing Sachs & Davis from paying poll tax was rescinded.

"There being only one member of the finance committee present there was no report from that body."

The "improvement" committee was directed to build a stone crossing from Roffe's corner to Wal-deck's.

Marshal directed to notify su-dary parties to pass by August 1st, and failing to comply the work to be done by the town.

Town attorney directed to write to the Superintendent of the C. & O. railway asking that he have the street cleaned out and put in order.

Adjourned to meet Wednesday evening.

June 7th. Board met pursuant to adjournment. An ordinance was passed forbidding the watering of horses at the public well under a penalty of five dollars fine.

Supervisors were allowed eight dollars each for their services.

W. H. Waldeck was exonerated from paying tax of $7.50.

It was made unlawful to ride a bicycle on the Main street sidewalk from Johnson to the river, excepting the north side of the public square, under a penalty of a fine of $10.

Miss Alice Waldeck, from blacksmith shop, a fine and other things, also sundry other things.

Louisa Milling Company allowed to put in a railroad cut also as to allow them to unload coal.

160 Conversions

Since the beginning of the wonderful meetings held at this place by Miss Cartwright there have been 160 conversions up to the present time and the number of penitents is still very large. It is probably the most successful series of meetings ever held here. Mrs. Hughes, who was with Miss Cartwright to conduct the song service, was called home Wednesday by a telegram announcing the dangerous illness of her mother.

While in Cattletown this week we were in Norris & York's new grocery store. It is in the building formerly used by the Big Sandy National Bank, and is the most attractive grocery store in town.
The building is a substantial brick in the center of town and is owned by the firm, which is composed of Elsworth Norris, formerly of Louisa, and his nephew Josh York, also known here. Their many friends are glad to know of their success which their close attention to business and their straightforward manner of dealing has brought them. They have a large patronage.

caught. The Ashland News says:

A WEEK OFF.

Kentucky Editors Have Their Annual Outing.

About two hundred persons in Kentucky of whom we know are just now engaged in the popular fad of "looking backward." They are the members of the Kentucky Press Association and the lady relatives and friends who accompanied them to Louisville and Chicago last week. From the time the date and programme of the annual meeting was announced, until the time rolled around, the country editor—if not his city brother—looked forward to it with pleasant anticipations. All we expected was realized and a great deal more.

We shall not attempt to fully describe our royal time, as it would be impossible to do it justice in any reasonable amount of space.

We feel safe in saying that no excursion party which ever went out of Kentucky received more courtesies or more liberal treatment than this one, which assembled in Louisville on May 27th and proceeded to Chicago the next day.

The first meeting was held in the Commercial Club Hall in Louisville. In a polished address, spiced with rich sallies of humor, Dr. E.
R. Palmer, of the Commercial Club, welcomed the Association in a manner which made them feel that the city was theirs. Mr. Bowden, President of the Commercial Club, then got in a few good links for Louisville as the site of the State Capital. He was followed by our worthy President C. M. Meacham, who very gracefully held up our end of the formal welcoming business. His address was extremely humorous, and this and his bald head caused him to be dubbed "Bill Nye." The magic badges, the street car checks and the return railroad tickets from Chicago were then distributed. In response to calls Col. Polk Johnson and Mr.
Emmett Logan made happy talk, the former, in so doing, "breaking a pledge to his wife."

The members were next entertained at the Courier-Journal editorial rooms, where an elegant lunch was enjoyed. The visitors were shown through the magnificent establishment from basement to roof.

Next came the concert and supper at the beautiful Elmhurst, Bill Park in the evening. The musical program was short, but the choicest to be had from the city's eminent corps of vocalists and instrumental performers. The supper, which was an informal affair, arranged to allow us to fully enjoy the good things which were served, was certainly a delicious affair. The music carried in a laudable description under each dish, and on the outside was this advice: "Eat, drink and be merry, for tomorrow you go to Chicago."

According to arrangements the members met on Tuesday at the depot, and at 8:30 a special train of four elegant palace cars pulled out, leaving only the Association party, which numbered nearly 200, ladies and gentlemen, to see them to Chicago.

The quickest ever made is taken between the two cities, notwithstanding that there was a considerable delay caused by a "hot box." A dining car was attached at Indianapolis and a superb meal served to all on board.
This was all free, the expense being borne by the Pennsylvania railroad line. Better service, faster trains or a smoother road are not found anywhere than this line has.
The Pennsylvania Company is one of the strongest and most enterprising and allows no other line to outdo it in any respect. The association will never forget Mr. Hag-gerly, the gentlemanly Louisville agent of the road.

IN CHICAGO.

Arriving in Chicago the association divided its number between the Palmer House and the Great Western Hotel, where they were shown many attentions.

The members were not long in discovering the wand-like power of the tasteful red badges, which they were in plain view. The badges bore simply, in bold black letters, "K. P. A." with a modest "1893," but before their potent charm the most obstinate door-keeper turned pale and fell back helplessly, not covering until we were comfortably seated within. It was a sight worth an admission fee to witness the efficacy of the badge which the famous Chicago zephyrus strove to wrest from the bosom of that bright meteor, Bob Morningstar, as he hustled about amongst the "pay" shows in the Midway Plaisance, with the association at his heels, looking for managers and then overlooking doorkeepers.

We saw, free of cost, every show around the grounds, including Buffalo Bill's Wild West, and most of them were visited upon special invitation. Many of the leading theaters of the city and all the magnificent panoramas extended the same courtesies. We were also supplied with passes to the World's Fair grounds.

On Wednesday a meeting was held at the Kentucky building, after which a sumptuous dinner was served. Mr. Sam J. Roberts, of the Lexington Leader, was elected President of the Association for the ensuing year and Mr. I. B. Nail was promoted from secretary to MONON RAILROAD.

The return tickets over the famous Monon route were good to bring us home as late as the 15th inst., but nearly, if not quite all the members were called back by their business at the close of the week.

We found the Monon elegant in all its appointments, a first class road in every respect. The long journey is made really pleasant by the superior service it affords. Mr.
Crash, the Louisville agent, was very solicitous for the comfort and welfare of the editorial party, and thereby won their lasting gratitude.

Those are briefly the outlines of a highly enjoyable outing of a lot of hard worked editors, who have already begun another year's grinding.

For the next few weeks we shall give our readers something about the World's Fair, but promise to administer it in broken doses small enough to be safe.

Even the bold, bad Chicago fakir looked upon the badge as invincible and not one of our gang was "foiled."

The badges attracted considerable attention, and in answer to a query as to the meaning of "K.
P. A." one of the members answered that it signified that we "Kissed Pay Anything." Well, at any rate, we did p. a.

"One of the boys" of the gang looked up to a Columbian guard who was patting a beat on the lake shore and anxiously inquired, "Are the wild waves saying?"

Has the following to say about the Electropose and how it cures after effects of the Grippe.
Office Brinley, Miles & Hardy Co., Louisville, Jan. 27, 1893.

Gents:—While attending the Memphis fair some months ago, I was attacked with the grippe, and my arms and legs were the objects of the most violent attacks of the disease. I was unable to move and I suffered most severely. I was told that the Electropose was the only thing that would cure me, and I bought one, and would have bought a dozen if I had had the money. When my remedy was applied I felt a wonderful relief, and I continued to use it until I was entirely cured. I think it is the best medicine I have ever used, and I think it will be a great help to many others who are suffering from the grippe. I will be glad to send you a copy of the Electropose if you will send me the name of your dealer. Respectfully, T. E. C. Brinley.

Mr. Brinley is one of the oldest and best known plow manufacturers in the country.

The diseases cured by the Electropose are not confined to any particular class of ailments, but its use oxygen is absorbed through the pores and membrane, adds strength and vigor to the entire system, and will cure any disease where there is vitality to build on.

We invite all to call or write and get full particulars.
